Student Led conference

We are looking forward to meeting with you this week to celebrate your child's learning. What a great gift to be able to spend some time really listening and discussing their learning. Our pupils are so proud of their work and how far they have developed over the year. Giving them 15 minutes of your time means so much.

Have you booked your time to celebrate their learning?

Celebrations

Last week we celebrated Samoan Language Week with a bang. Our awesome team of staff coordinated some great events including daily talalo, pese, teaching a group a siva, seuga and with the support of the nuu providing meaai for all the hubs. A fantastic effort from staff and community to share your gifts and culture.

Education Review Office

As you will read and see in the photos below, last week we completed our school review. It was an excellent opportunity to showcase our amazing learners and staff. Our last review was in 2015 and we have progressed so much since then.

ERO are an organisation who are contracted by the Ministry of Education to review every pre-school, primary, college and university in New Zealand. The reviewers audit all aspects of our teaching and learning, and the schools future direction. Our review was extremely positive and helped us confirm the current direction.

Lateness

Unfortunately this has grown over the past few weeks. Lately we have up to 60 pupils coming to school after 9.00am. Thank you to our whanau whose children are at school by 8.30am. I understand one of your routines is to have lunch boxes and uniforms ready to go the night before. You really are setting your children up for success everyday.

A thought to leave with you:

Led by Tumanako

Last week we celebrated Samoan Language Week. This year's theme "Lalaga le si'osi'omaga mo se lumana'i manuia" translates to 'Weave an environment for a better future'.

Throughout the week the Samoan staff enjoyed teaching our tamaiti (children): lotu (prayer/grace), pese (songs), siva (dance), and a Samoan art of designing and making a pale (head dress). There was even food tasting of koko alaisa (coco rice) and pani keke (pancake). A Puletasi & Lāvalava day on Friday was an opportunity for our tamaiti to wear their favourite culture clothes to school. At our Friday assembly, to end our wonderful week, our tamaiti performed an 'Ava ceremony, showing our whole school, how this special ceremony is used to open a meeting. Our tamaiti also performed a siva and displayed their pale. Malō lava tamaiti, you all did very well.

Thank you to our families who contributed to making Samoan Language Week a successful celebration.

Fa'afetai ma faamanuia le Atua

(Thank you and God bless)

Ana Baice

Fa'amalo atu lava tatou laumua nei ile Sagato Ana mo le faatauaiga o le vaiaso ua a'tofa mo le Gagana Samoa, ua mitimita le loto ma le mafaufau ona ole fa'amuamua ma le faataua ele tatou laumua.

Translation: Greetings to our St Anne's school community as we reflect on our Samoan Language week. It gives me great joy that we were all able to come together and celebrate last week. Thank you to everyone including all the teachers and parents who contributed to a successful celebration.

Catholic Schools Day Mass

Last week, Tuesday the 28th was the Catholic Schools Day celebration. The 'Community of Learners' that St Anne is part of decided to celebrate this day by getting together to celebrate Mass together. We were fortunate enough to take 35 children from here for the Mass at Holy Cross Parish in Papatoetoe.

It was a wonderful day of getting together to celebrate our Catholic faith with nine other Catholic schools in our area. Coming together to celebrate the Eucharist was indeed a special day and one that the children enjoyed being a part of.

Welcoming our visitors from the Education Review Office

Last week our school community welcomed the ERO visitors with a very deeply moving powhiri led by our Kapa Haka students and a lovely liturgy to begin our school week. Although manuhiri (guests) to our school, many connections of the past and present were made throughout the week long process they were with us. We are grateful to our tamariki for relishing the time to share, show manaakitanga and aroha to our guests through our waiata, korero and kanikani (dance). A special mention to our Senior Kapa Haka group, Mihi Whittington & Hope Johnston (Kaikaranga) and Mr Ross for speaking on behalf of our Manuhiri.
